CHURCH HILL MAN STOLE HIS OWN FOWLS

Aided and Abetted the Porter to Take the Wrong Rooster.

Mr. Jim Holloran's son had some chick ens up to Christmas morning. It had been his joy to go out of a morning to feed those chickons, and when he found them not on Christmas morning he ran to his father and wept aloud. His father consoled him and presented him a stick of candy.

For many nights and early mornings Mr. Holloran had been awakened from aweet slumber by the crowing of the rooster and he had hoped after that some-body would steal those chickens.

So on Christmas Eve, he held a conference with "Flutes". Jackson. Flutes is Mr. Holloran's porter. He told Flutes to steal the chickens and he would reward dim. Flutes hesitated, but only momentarily, for Mr. Holloran said he would stand between him, and the gallows, and said between him, and the gallows, and Rov. Dr. Lyman Abbott, the Rev.

In the centre of the stage was set up no initation tree, but a great pine filled with candles, toys, dolls and ornaments. Around this centerpiece were piles of clothes, cloaks, caps, buts, shoes, underciothes and a thousand and one things that make the body warm and the child's heart glad.

There were some who worked the old game of running home with their presents and coming back for more, but these small imposters were discovered and turned away.

From 10 o'clock until 1:30 P. M. the children swarmed upon the siage and received their Christmas gifts. Mr. John A. Moroso, Mr. John Wiley, Mr. A. B. Wil llams, Miss Cally Ryland and Mrs. Wiley were in general charge. At the toy and candy table Miss. Spray Maybee, Miss Lucile Johnson, Miss Julia Yeager and Mrs. Snellings were in charge.

choir and Gather Hannigan preached an appropriate sermon, which was well delivered and he showed great familiarity with his subject.

In the Episcopal, Preshyterian, Methodist, Baptist and other churches of the city the services were well attended and of unusual importance.

At Grace-Street Presbyterian Church !!

At Grace-Street Presbyterian Church the Rev. Jerc Witherspoon preached a most apropriate and interesting sermon, the subject of his discourse being 'His Stars.' The choir which had prepared an exceedingly fine programme, rendered it in a most creditable manner, it surpassing any music heard in the church for many years. At the evening service Rev. B. J. Willingham occupied the pulpit.

At St. Paul's the services were most impressive—Rt. Rev. Bishop R. A. Gibson preached a most interesting sermon dwelling at length upon the importance of the feast and what a part it played in our existence. The congregation was exceedingly large. The music at St. Paul's was exceptionally fine. Under the skillful direction of Professor Reinhardt an elaborate programme was rendered, including the usual Christians authemm and a Te Deum, which was most beautful.

Delightful Celebration by the Boys-Cantata Presented.

Boys—Cantata Presented.
Christmas at the Jaurel Industrial School was celebrated yesterday, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, was thoroughly enjoyed by all At noon all the boys repaired to the dining room, where an ideal Christmas dinner was served. The boys did full justice to the boundful supply of roast turkey with cranberry sauce, and the many other good things of the season that were pinced before them. In the afternoon candy, cakes and fruit were passed around.

Superintendent Emmons and his wife

Superintendent Emmons and his wife Superintendent Emmons and his wife were conspicuous by their efforts to show the boys a good time, and make the day one memorable in the history of the institution, and the many bright, happy faces were evidence to the success of their efforts.

At 7:30 o'clock in the evening, the cantata, "Santa Claus and Company," was presented by a number of the small boys, reinforced by some of the elders. The cast of characters was as followers:

Holly Fairles, Kliso Teater, Haro's Granger, Robert Stevens, Wilmer Cana an.
The cantata was presented in a highly

The cantata was presented in a highly craditable manner, and was received entitue actually by the audience. The costumes and scenery were marvels of beauty, and the antics of lake and Woozy kept the audience in peaks of laughter all the time they were on the stage.

The excellent rendering of the cantata is due to the untiring efforts of W. B. Shakitz, who trained and dylled the boys.

BANQUET GIVEN TO THE BIJOU PLAYERS

Comedians and Chorus Girls Enjoy a Christmas Dinner. Jokes Told.

The "Running For Office" Company, numbering forty-five people, are stopping it Campbell's new hotel. The company where they played a week at the Lufayette Theatre. Upon their arrival here they were grated by Representative Charles Vion, their advance man, who had, at the suggestion of George Cohan and Sam Harris, owners of the show, aringed for a Christmas dinner. The dinner was given in Murphy's Annex banquet hall and was one of the finest ever put up by Murphy. The meni "line-up" embraced such things as oysters, turkey with caestant dressing, croquetts, musirooms, quall on toust, colery sailed, baked shad and the necessary liquids and confections.

Managre C. C. Stumm was master of ceremonies, assisted by Agent Charlie Vion and Stage Managr, High Mack. These gentlemen made things merry by calling on the various members of the company, who responded in their own particular way, among them being the members of the famous Olympic Quartette, Wm. Koough, Miko Sullivan, Al. Cameron and Hughy Mack.

A feature of the affair was the manner in which the quartette "look off" the old-time minstrels and told the old jokes.

"What makes a cat's tail like a jong road?" asked Hughy Mack, of Mike Sulliva.

"The and of a howl," said Keough. were greated by Representative
